This back-to-school season, advance Child Tax Credit payments may help.

irs.gov/childtaxcredit2021
Families who don’t usually file tax returns may still qualify for advance Child Tax Credit payments.
Advance Child Tax Credit payments will not affect your eligibility for any government benefits, including SNAP.

irs.gov/childtaxcredit2021
Raising a grandchild? You may qualify for advance payments of the Child Tax Credit.

irs.gov/childtaxcredit2021
The IRS Child Tax Credit Eligibility Assistant is available in English and Spanish.

irs.gov/childtaxcredit2021

IRS ofrece el Asistente de elegibilidad para el Crédito por hijos en español e inglés.
If your family isn’t normally required to file a tax return, you can still sign up for advance payments of the Child Tax Credit.

irs.gov/childtaxcredit2021
A permanent address isn’t required

An IRS online tool lets families experiencing homelessness register for advance Child Tax Credit payments, if eligible.

irs.gov/childtaxcredit2021
Eligible families experiencing homelessness may register for advance Child Tax Credit payments, even if not required to file a tax return.
For advance Child Tax Credit payments, your home can be a shelter or temporary lodging and doesn’t need to be the same physical location all year.

irs.gov/childtaxcredit2021
An IRS online tool helps families who don’t file tax returns register for monthly Child Tax Credit payments.

irs.gov/childtaxcredit2021